

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Editors would like to provide a special note of thanks to the conference speakers, topic experts, moderators, facilitators and rapporteurs and those who volunteered to prepare papers, all of who are colleagues making a special effort to share their experiences and help facilitate our exchanges at the Conference. Special thanks to those contributing materials for the Conference exhibits.

The Seventh International Conference on Environmental Compliance and Enforcement in Marrakech, Morocco, was made possible by the personal and financial contributions of many organizations and individuals. The Executive Planning Committee of INECE, whose membership is listed on page 1 of the Proceedings, provided leadership and direction in the design of the program, selection of the speakers and topic experts, and identification of individuals from a range of nations who would be in the best position to share practical experience in environmental compliance and enforcement to improve or develop domestic compliance and enforcement programs and to engage in ongoing networking, capacity building and enforcement cooperation.

Funding of the Conference logistics, planning, and workshop development was provided by the conference sponsors: the United States Environmental Protection Agency; Ministry of VROM, Inspectorate of Housing, Spatial Planning and the Environment, the Netherlands; the European Commission; Environment Agency, England and Wales; Environment Canada; Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development; Ministry of the Territory Planning, Water, and Environment, Morocco; Ministry of Justice, Morocco; International Fund for Animal Welfare; Institute for Governance and Sustainable Development; United Nations Environment Programme; The World Bank Institute; České Švýcarsko (National Park Bohemian Switzerland of the Czech Republic) and the Appian Group; Ciments du Maroc (CIMAR); Centre de Développement des Energies Renouvelables (CDER); Deutsche Gesellschaft für Technische Zusammenarbeit (GTZ).

Funding of participants was graciously offered by the Ministry of VROM, Department of International Environmental Affairs, the Netherlands; the United States Environmental Protection Agency; the World Bank Institute; the European Commission; the International Fund for Animal Welfare; Royal Air Maroc; Environment Agency, England and Wales; the United States Department of State; and the North American Commission on Environmental Cooperation.

The Editors are particularly grateful to Meredith Reeves, Dave Grossman, Scott Stone, Aesah Javier, Steven Potokar, Sachiko Morita, Peter Grabiell, and Maina Kaniaru for their invaluable assistance in the preparation of these proceedings.
